FAQ'S

1. Is there a Height Restriction?

This varies according to the specific airline and which aircraft type you will be operating. Usually you may not be shorter than 1.58m. This varies with different airlines.

2. Is there an age cut off?

No. You can fly as a Flight Attendant until retirement age providing you pass your annual recurrent training and meet the medical requirements, as well as the airline requirements.

3. How do I stay current? (License to be active, as it does expire, recurrent exams need to be (done). You will be required to do your recurrent training and your medicals as regularly as it is legally required according to the SA CAA (South African Civil Aviation Authority) regulations.

4. Why do some Training Schools require a medical certificate before accepting you for Training?

The Medical Certificate is required for the Flight Attendant licensing process. It is very wise to complete your medicaly Medical Center examination prior to attending training as this will prevent possible financial loss to you should you be found medically unfit

5. What happens once I have completed the initial training course with your academy?

Once the training course has been completed at The Academy of Aviation, and you were successful in all the components, you will then write a final SA CAA examination. After completion of that and you were successful, the SA CAA will issue you a license. It is then up to you to find employment with the commercial airlines or private charters, as with completing any qualification at an institution.

6. Does the Academy of Aviation find me a job?

No. The Academy of Aviation is a training organisation only and is not involved in recruitment of Flight Attendants. However, our reputation as an ATO is held in high regard in the aviation industry, and is highly respected with our qualified Learners.

7. How difficult is the course? There are 16 Modules to be completed over the 7 week programme and the pass mark for most of these written exams on all modules is 90%.

There are also practical assessments involved and the pass mark required is 100%

8. What are the training hours? 08h30 to 17h00 Monday to Friday (there might be a requirement to train on a Saturday, Sunday or Public Holiday)
